

Wealth in Polk County, Florida

Background & Introduction

In our county or community¹ analysis we address four key awareness areas:

- The Transfer of Wealth (TOW) Opportunity Findings
- Indicators of Wealth or Rationale for the TOW Findings
- Scenario Changers
- Donor Opportunity Areas

The following illustrates the kind of information covered in each of these four areas for Polk County, Florida. We have not prepared narrative for this illustration.

Scenario Changers

We generate scenarios of a likely future based on historical trends, current developments and conservative assumptions of the future. These are not predictive forecasts. Forecasting 50 years into the future is challenging and that is why we do scenarios versus predictive forecasts. Reflecting on the dramatic changes that have occurred over the past 50 years – we assume great change in the coming 50 years. For this reason, our scenarios are prepared in a transparent manner so that users of this research can appreciate how and when changes might alter their TOW opportunities. With this in mind we offer the following scenario changers or issues or trends that could dramatically increase or decrease this community's TOW opportunity.

A Note on Demographics. The decade of the 2000s provides a potentially important insight into the future of this community and its potential for wealth creation and its TOW opportunity. The county has a net zero natural population change where births and deaths nearly equal. Demographic growth was realized through immigration – both domestic and international. This has and is skewed to older demographics (therefore relatively high death and low birth rates in a growing community). Immigration accounted for about 92% of all demographic growth in the 2000s! This growth was nearly divided between domestic immigration (+79,000) and international immigration (+72,000).

Donor Opportunity Areas

ESRI is one of America's leading market research firms. We have purchased from ESRI this research for every county in Florida for use in this project. It organizes all American households into 1 of 66 household types (Tapestry Segments) based on household life stage, consumer habits and wealth. These 66 household types are also organized by LifeMode Groups or groups of household type that are similar such as retirees. Finally, ESRI profiles all households by degree of urbanization from remote rural to central city. These profiles can help foundations engage in more strategic donor understanding, identification and development. These reports are in the Electronic Library along with a description of ESRI's LifeMode Groups and Tapestry household types.

Based on this analysis and other research we conducted as part of this project, we have identified the following Donor Opportunity Areas for this county. A complete directory of Donor Opportunity Areas for the United States can be found in the Electronic Library.

The Center for Rural Entrepreneurship's vision for rural America is one of vibrant communities and regions that embrace entrepreneurship, that find new sources of competitive advantage in their inherent assets, and that invest in a new more sustainable future for both present and future generations. The Center's mission is to help our local, regional and state partners achieve this future by connecting economic development practitioners and policy makers to the resources needed to energize entrepreneurs and implement entrepreneurship as a core economic development strategy.

These development efforts require financial resources. Most traditional sources of funding are challenged as governments, businesses and foundations struggle to meet rising community needs. A core program area for the Center is Community Development Philanthropy, where our team helps your community, region or state build a community wealth road map. Our Transfer of Wealth (TOW) research offers insight into possibly the greatest opportunity to tap new, significant and sustainable funding streams in support of growing better and stronger communities. For many communities and regions, TOW research can help jump start important conversations leading to greater community giveback.

The Center has conducted TOW studies for clients around the nation for more than 10 years, and has published a book titled, Transfer of Wealth in Rural America: Understanding the Potential, Realizing the Opportunity, Creating Wealth for the Future. More product offerings are planned under our Community Development Philanthropy area.

The Rural Policy Research Institute (RUPRI) provided founding support to create the Center for Rural Entrepreneurship in 2001. RUPRI's mission is to provide independent analysis and information on the challenges, needs, and opportunities facing rural people and places. The work of the Center for Rural Entrepreneurship, along with other centers and collaborations, helps RUPRI achieve this mission. To learn more about RUPRI, visit www.rupri.org.
